WHERE HE KISSED HER.
They parted at the open door;
He was a happy mortal;
He took her in his arms once more
And kissed her on the portal.
They parted on the seashore;
She was a lovely peach;
He said he'd meet her later,
And then kissed her on the beach.

TWO-COUNT 'EM!

Maysville Licks Paris Twice in Same Day—Gives Lexington Dose Today

Twice in the same place is where Maysville hit the Paris bunch yesterday afternoon; a sloppy field and some rain.

First game—Maysville 4, Paris 1.

Second game—Maysville 8, Paris 2.

Grover did mound duty for the Rivermen in the first game and never was in danger, only allowing the Bourbonites four hits, while the locals hit Dunlap at times when his mound roars.

In the second game Vance had everything his own way and won with ease. His ball was a puzzle to Deany Harrell's bunch and they were unable to connect with his drops at times when they might have scored a run.

Yesterday's features in both games were the all-round batting of the Maysville team and the base running of Clever.

The score follows:

Paris.....1 0 0 0 0 0—1
Maysville.....0 2 0 2 0 x—4

Batteries—Dunlap and Shook, Grover and Kunkle. Two-base hits—Reed, Langenham. Three-base hit—Grover. Sacrifice hits—Chapman, Williams. Sacrifice fly—Kunkle. Stolen Bases—Clever 2, Shook. Bases on Balls—Off Dunlap 2. Struck Out—By Dunlap 4, by Grover 8. Left on Bases—Paris 2, Maysville 2. Wild Pitch—Grover. Time—1:35. Umpire—Patterson.

SECOND GAME.

Maysville.....1 2 0 5 0 0 x—8

Batteries—Monroe, Locke and Goodman, Vance and Kunkle. Two-base hits—Langenham 2. Three-base hits—Kunkle 2, Mollenkamp. Sacrifice hits—Reed, Kunkle. Sacrifice fly—Carmony. Stolen Bases—Langenham, Clever. Bases on Balls—Off Monroe 1, off Vance 1, off Locke 1. Struck Out—By Monroe 1, by Vance 6, by Locke 1. Base Hits—Five hits, three runs off Monroe in two innings. Left on Bases—Paris 5, Maysville 3. Time—1:05. Umpire—Patterson.

SEWER GAS EXPLOSION

Miss Lula Traxel Has a Narrow Escape Last Evening

Last night about 9 o'clock the residents of West Second street were thrown into a semi-panic by an explosion that was heard in all parts of the neighborhood.

At the hour named above Miss Traxel had occasion to visit the toilet in the rear part of the yard and on entering used a match to find her way. No sooner was the match struck than a tremendous explosion followed and she was shrouded in a flame twenty feet high.

She was thrown half way across the yard by the concussion and was painfully burned about the head, arms and hands.

The force of the explosion extended across an alley and wrecked another outhouse, blowing the roof off and the sides of the building out.

There has been a gaseous odor arising in the vicinity from sewerage obstruction for some time, and the dwellers of West Second have been fearful of just such results as occurred last night. The city officials should take the matter up and abate the danger that is likely to occur in other sections of that part of the city.

It was indeed fortunate that Miss Traxel escaped with her life.

W. H. Taft. J. S. Sherman.

REPUBLICAN TICKET.

FOR PRESIDENT,
WILLIAM HOWARD TAFT.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT,
JAMES S. SHERMAN.

Even the Filipinos do not like the Democratic "free sugar" bill and are opposing the measure.

Evidently the Colonel believes he will not need the colored cavalry in his next battle.—New York Sun.

It is worth noting that there is no mention of Reciprocity in either the Republican or Democratic platforms.

All of the British West Indies have voted to accept the reciprocity treaty with Canada, except Trinidad, which will ratify later.

This is the time of year when the Democratic editors elect the President of these United States. The Republicans elect their's November.

public officials sometimes show wonder-sight into human nature. A woman has appointed by the treasury department to money.

tioned Republicans still believe in because they believe that it has to make their country great and prosperous.

most unexampled self-restraint the has refrained so far from charging the official notification of Mr. Taft was adulent.—Boston Globe.

The Boston State Hospital has 1125 patients under treatment for the "blues." We always had an idea it must be depressing to live in Boston.—Louisville Herald.

The Democrats have been in office only about seven months yet Kentucky already owes a million and a half dollars. The State be swamped by debt in four years.

Unlike Ohio and some other Western States, New Hampshire has little use for radical innovation. Her constitutional convention rejected the "initiative and referendum" proposition, and another to regulate salaries and dividends paid by corporations.

The Tariff does not and cannot regulate wages. But this it can and does do. It creates employment and thereby increases the demand for labor. As the demand for labor increases so must the price of labor increase. To that extent the Tariff affects and regulates wages.

Governor Thomas R. Marshall of Indiana, Democratic candidate for Vice-President, has been highly eulogized, since the nomination, as an able lawyer. However that may be, the Indiana Supreme Court has declared unconstitutional the new State constitution which was drafted by the Indiana Executive. Governor Marshall's constitution ought to take its place in political files best Governor Tilden's will.

Discharged without honor—the whole colored race in the South.—Springfield Republican.

Lincoln freed the negroes of the South and now his successor reads them out of the party.—Pittsburgh Sun.

It is stated that President Taft and Governor Wilson will make only a few speeches in the campaign, but that Col. Roosevelt will speak in almost every State before the November election.

Protection is the cardinal Republican principle and policy. To be a Republican is to be a Protectionist. A man who is not a Protectionist should be a Democrat, and Democrats, and there are thousands many times multiplied, who are Protectionists should be Republicans.—Marion (La.) Register.

American politics have not yet become so topsy-turvy that the thinking citizen is willing to have an individual, radical or conservative, be the party platform as well as the nominating convention and the candidate at the head of the ticket. And it is the thinking citizen, turning to this or to that nominee, who decides national elections.—New York Press.

The local followers of President Taft seem to take the "Bull Moose" stir as a joke. Col. Green Garrett said that Captain John W. Throckmorton, the ex-railway conductor, who was chosen by the "Moose" as Presidential elector, is the only Republican he ever scratched in his life, when he was on the Taylor ticket for Superintendent of Agriculture.—Winchester Democrat.

In a lecture delivered before the People's Forum, New Rochelle, N. Y., Feb. 26, 1905, Governor Woodrow Wilson Democratic nominee for President, said:

"The labor unions reward the shiftless and incompetent at the expense of the able and industrious."

The Democratic candidate for the presidency of the United States in which there are almost 3,000,000 organized workingmen, has never disavowed this statement so illuminating of what they may expect from him in their behalf.

It is stated that President Taft will fight the leaders of the third party movement for every presidential elector who runs on a Republican ballot under the President's name. The fight will be carried into every State where third party leaders hope to have Republican electors vote for Roosevelt. Regular Republicans in touch with the President, the Republican National Committee and the Taft leaders will begin at once a campaign to make sure that electors voted for on the Republican ticket will stand by that ticket in the electoral college.

A Berlin dispatch of July 15th says: "The German exporting world is frankly delighted at the prospect of Woodrow Wilson's election to the Presidency and the inauguration of a tariff for revenue only in the United States." We can fully credit this statement. The German's want all needful protection for their own industries, but have no particular concern for the industries of other countries. This policy might well be imitated by the United States. If our people do not look out for their own interests, they may be sure that no other nation will relieve them of that duty.

WISDOM IN COMPROMISE.
"Compromise," says a prominent Bull Moose politician, "is usually objectionable, but is sometimes a good thing. For instance:
"One of my constituents, a young man who was married about a year ago, was constantly arguing with his wife about whether they should buy an automobile or a power boat. When I met him the other day he said:
"Well, my wife and I have wrangled for months, but thank goodness, we've compromised at last."
"What have you compromised on?" I asked.
"A baby carriage," he answered proudly."

FREE SHOWS WILL BE OF HIGH CLASS

Enormous Expenditures for Attractions At Kentucky State Fair September 9 to 14

THE FAMOUS LIBERATI BAND

Will Be Star Offering in This Line—Amusements Provided for Both Day and Night—Autos Will Loop the Loop in Mid-Air.

Two things that are essential to the success of an educational and amusement institution, according to J. W. Newinan, Commissioner of Agriculture, and James L. Dent, Secretary of the Kentucky State Fair, are inducements to draw exhibitors and attractions to draw the public. With this idea in view, the officials have set out to make it profitable to both exhibitors and patrons, and to that end nothing has been left undone that might add to the drawing features both from the standpoint of exhibitors and also from the public generally. Rich prizes have been named by the management to insure the greatest display of exhibits ever seen in any section of the south or west, more than $30,000 to be distributed to the successful exhibitors in the various departments.

As an evidence of their faith in the people of Kentucky to patronize an institution such as the State Fair has become, Commissioner Newinan and Secretary Dent have gone to great expense in securing the greatest line of amusements ever provided for the people of Kentucky or the South. Liberati and his famous band, one of the greatest musical organizations in the country, composed of forty-two musicians and six soloists, has been secured at a big expense, and the music-loving public who attend the fair this year will have no complaint to register on this score. This noted organization will be heard in concert each afternoon and night in the big pavilion. For those of the visitors who would rather patronize the racing feature of the fair than the horse show, the management has secured another noted musical organization in the famous Day and Scally band, of Louisville, which will furnish the music at the race track on the grounds each afternoon during the week.

For the free attractions for each afternoon and evening the management has provided some of the most sensational acts ever presented to the public. Who in this section of the country has ever witnessed automobiles passing through the air at a height of sixty-five feet? For the first time in the South or Middle West, and one of the few times in this country, such an exhibition will be witnessed at the State Fair this year when every afternoon at 2 o'clock and each night at 8:30 o'clock two 1,200-pound machines will loop the loop from a tower at a height of sixty-five feet. This is regarded as the most sensational act ever contrived by the human mind, and just as often as it is attempted, just that often the exhibitors daily with death in mid-air.

At no time during the entire day will there be a dull minute for visitors. It being the aim of the management to provide such a line of attractions in addition to the regular line of exhibits that visitors for one day only can leave for their homes the same night, expressing the belief that they have been well repaid for the time and money spent in coming to Louisville for the one day. In order to please the one-day visitor the management has looked well to the day-light attractions, and the big $100,000 livestock pavilion will be the scene of much activity from early morning until late in the afternoon. Among the exhibits to be seen in the pavilion will be the horse show, which will be given from 10 o'clock each morning until 4 o'clock each afternoon, permitting visitors to see the last ring of the day and get to the depots in time to catch their trains for home, none of which leave the city earlier than 4:30 o'clock.

This great exhibition of livestock in the pavilion, coupled with the races and open-air attractions in front of the grand stand each afternoon, makes the free attractions the biggest and best ever presented to the people in this section of the country.

MODEL SILO AT STATE FAIR

A model concrete silo has been constructed at the State Fair and will be in readiness by the time the great event opens in September. It is proposed to have it filled with corn, ensilage, sorghum and other green feeds thus affording students of agriculture, farmers, stockmen and all others interested an opportunity of seeing in operation one of the greatest feed saving and nourish-preserving devices ever used on the farm. It is a beauty in construction, and is in keeping with the dignity and rich appearance of all the permanent buildings on the grounds.

Bill of Fare

"Yes, we've just had to chloroform our last dog," sighed Mrs. Mack resignedly. "He had such a bad temper. No, we didn't bury him—we couldn't unless we dug up the alley, and we might have been arrested for that. And it's so disagreeable to keep a dog around waiting for the authorities to take him away that the boys just took him down the street a few blocks late at night and put him in one of the vestibules.

"No, of course, I didn't inquire. So I don't know what they did with him. Now we're looking around for another dog."

Mrs. Mack brightened perceptibly as she viewed the prospect of having a new pet. "You know, it's awfully lonely without a dog," she said. "But let me tell you one thing—the next dog is going to have a very different bringing up.

"Our first dog was a tiny black and tan, and he was such a baby that we fed him with cream through a piece of cotton. It was all very well for a few days while the feeding was a novelty, but after that no one wanted to feed him—and I simply had to! And when he got big enough to eat common fare he simply refused to touch it. So there I had to pay for an extra bottle of cream every blessed day for that dog! It was months before he'd think of taking a drop of the cream without the cotton tool. Well, the dog catchers got him at last, and I was so tired of feeding him that I didn't try to bill him out.

"Then we had Fanny. Fanny was a tiny fuzzy puppy, and we simply adored her. But I thought I was wise after my experience with the black and tan, and I wouldn't feed her a particle of cream. I made up my mind that everything she ate and got used to while she was young should be just the common fare from the table. And I insisted that she should get to liking vegetables while she was too young to know any better.

"We got Fanny in the spring, when we had fresh vegetables. Later on I used to save skins and ends of the tomatoes and cook them up with other things as I had to feed Fanny.

"That dog was splendid about it, too; she'd every scrap I gave her, and I was delighted. That is, until the fall came and tomatoes were too high to buy every day.

"I cooked up Fanny's dinner as usual—and the little scamp refused to eat! After a day or two I got scared. I thought she was going to be ill, so I tried all sorts of delicacies to tempt her appetite, but it was of no use. She simply wouldn't eat and she grew thin as a lath!

"Finally one day we had guests, and I had said again—and unthinkingly I fixed up Fanny's food as usual. And you should have seen that dog eat! She ate and ate and ate—and when she had finished all I had to give her she lay by her plate and kept her nose over it, just daring any one to take it away! It was the tomatoes! She had them every day since she was a puppy, and she couldn't eat without them!

"After Fanny died—we used to buy canned tomatoes after that and it really wasn't very expensive, though it was a nuisance—we got a collie.

"Collie was a fine blue ribbon dog, and my husband was a lot prouder of him than he was of his whole family combined. He'd strut up mid down in front of the house by the hour ailing the dog, just as if the dog hadn't been out the whole blessed day ailing himself! Collie used to get the best of dog biscuits and choice cooked bits of meat. He wouldn't even look at the things that ordinary dogs eat, and we didn't expect him to. His beauty and lineage entitled him to the best and we gave it to him willingly.

"However, when summer came we planned to go away as usual. We thought we'd go west, and the first thing was to plan for what Collie should be well taken care of. We asked all our friends who knew Collie well to take care of him in our absence, but they all refused, gently but firmly—I couldn't think why. Finally my husband asked a friend of ours out in the country to take Collie, and he consented. We sent Collie out there the day we left on our little trip.

"At our first stopping place we found a telegram saying that Collie refused to eat, being evidently homesick without us. We laughed and said he'd get over it. So we went on. At the second city there was another telegram saying that Collie hadn't eaten for days and that we'd better return. We did.

"We found that Collie just wanted dog biscuit and tenderloin! He wasn't at all particular about our presence, provided he got the kind of fare he demanded.

"The dog we have next time is going to begin his meals with soup and he's going to have every course until the coffee—I'm hoping that'll be a final solution of our troubles. Still, it's so hard to know just what to do about a dog!"—Chicago Daily News.

When a woman buys a Hair Restorer she is particularly anxious to get something that is a preparation that is reliable and satisfactory and she doesn't want a hair dye. HAY'S HAIR HEALTH cleans up and invigorates the scalp and encourages new hair to grow, brings back the NATURAL COLOR to your hair, makes it soft and lustrous, leaves no stain on skin, does not dye and nobody can tell you are using it.
Mrs. Fred Gumpert of 228 West 148th street, New York City, writes:
"About six months ago I had a bald spot on the very top of my head as big as the palm of my hand. In about seven weeks' time, using HAY'S HAIR HEALTH continuously, new hair started to grow. They are getting just as long and are the same color as the rest of my hair. I shall never give up using it!"
You can get it at Thos. J. Clummetts for 50c or 48c per bottle, or from the Philip Hay Spec. Co., Newark, N. J.

HELP THE KIDNEYS

MAYSVILLE READERS ARE LEARNING THE WAY

It's the little kidney ill—The lame, weak or aching back—The unnoticed urinary disorders—That may lead to "dropsy and Bright's disease."

When the kidneys are weak, Help them with Doan's Kidney Pills. A remedy especially for weak kidneys.

Doan's have been used in kidney troubles for over 50 years.

Endorsed by 30,000 people—endorsed at home—

Proof in a Maysville citizen's statement.

Lang Stevens, Maysville, Ky., says: "I can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to anyone who suffers from backache and kidney weakness. My kidneys were out of order and I had backache, attended with pain which extended into my kidneys. The kidney secretion was irregular. Doan's Kidney Pills had been used in my family so I gave them a trial. They made me entirely better."

New Graft Comes to Light

A machine man relates an interesting story of a smooth graft worked in this state.

According to this story a young man about 6 or 8 miles from a small town had a brother who ran the only livery stable in the town in question.

To help out the livery the country brother wrote to a number of machine firms stating that he was in the market for machinery. The machine man came from all directions to sell machinery. Of course the only liveryman knew where the man lived and would be glad to drive them out and back which he did many times, collecting a very liberal fee.

Daughter of Revolution Dead

Mrs. Elizabeth Chambers, 83 years old, one of the Daughters of the American Revolution, died at Columbus, Ohio, last week. She had lived nearly all her life in Cincinnati, Ohio, and Newport, Ky. Death due to rheumatism, occurred after an illness of one year.

Mrs. Chambers' father was Private Smith, who served in a Virginia Company. One of his exploits as a boy, before enlistment, gained him fame throughout Virginia. One night the British brought a barge up the river near his home loaded with supplies. A guard was left in charge, but Smith and a companion swam out and bored holes in the sides of it with an auger and sank her.

Mrs. Chambers' body was buried in Mt. Washington Cemetery, Cincinnati.

CHAUTAUQUAS IN OHIO

People Flock to Them in Buckeye State—10,000 Tickets Sold at Antioch

Do Chautauquas pay in Ohio?

Read this from The Republican, Xenia:

"Nine thousand, eight hundred and seven people attended the Antioch Chautauquas at Naff Park this summer. These figures, with the report that the Antioch management came out a bit less than $25 to the good, have just been issued by President S. D. Fess of Antioch College, under whose direction the chautauquas have been held. The total cost of the chautauquas this summer was $3,200. This is just a little more than last summer's chautauquas cost, owing to the fact that the affair lasted eleven days this year.

"The attendance, as shown by the ticket sales, was, from Xenia, 1,404; from Springfield, 1,127; gate admission, 6,124; children, 602; season tickets, 550.

"An effort is being made by public-spirited citizens of Yellow Springs to make the Chautauquas a permanent annual affair and an organization will be perfected to that end."

Linen 6,000 Years Old

London Daily News.

In one of the apartments at University College, Prof. Filander Petrie has placed on exhibition some remarkably interesting antiquities unearthed at Tarkhan, Heliopolis, and Memphis, under the auspices of the British School of Archaeology in Egypt.

A great sheet of linen which is placed on exhibition is as fresh and as firm as when cut from the original length—and it is some 6,000 years old. So likewise with the woodwork, which in but few instances shows signs of decay. Here are boxes that served their purpose as funeral caskets, built of planks of acacia and shittim wood, and as firm and as secure as when lowered into the bosom of the earth in dim antiquity.

WAR REMINISCENCES

SAW FALL OF FORT SUMTER.

Capt. John A. Bunker White Aboard Coasting Schooner off Charleston Witnessed Battle.

On an April day in 1861, while the guns of Moultrie and Castle Pinckney were thundering against the walls of Fort Sumter, there lay at anchor outside the harbor at Charleston, S. C., a coasting schooner. From its lowly deck its officers and crew of half a dozen sailors watched the artillery duel that proved to be the opening scene in the Civil War.

The schooner was the Pennsylvania, chartered by Boston shippers, and freighted with ice for Charleston. One of the crew was thus privileged to be eyewitnesses of the first overt act of rebellion against the United States government, was John Allen Bunker, then aged 23, of Edgartown, Mass.

"I was 23 years of age at the time serving before the mast in the coasting trade. Our craft, which was schooner-rigged, was owned in Rockland, Me. Early in April, 1861, we sailed out of Boston, carrying 250 tons of ice consigned to parties in Charleston, S. C. Of course we had heard for several months of the mutterings of impending trouble, and we knew that Maj. Anderson had transferred his command from the shore fortifications to Fort Sumter and was holding for Uncle Sam, but I think not a soul on board the Pennsylvania, our schooner, realized the seriousness of the situation. I know I felt no hesitation about making the trip.

"After rounding Cape Cod we ran down the coast without special delay, so far as I can remember, and in about five days, I should say, we were off Charleston, and headed for the channel leading to the city.

"Fort Sumter was being bombarded. We were four miles away but we could see the flash of the guns in Moultrie and other shore fortifications. Over all hung a great volume of smoke.

"What did we do? Why there was but one thing for the captain to do—drop the anchor, and await the outcome. It would have been suicidal to have attempted to run the gauntlet off that heavy crossfire. Yes, we were held up all right, and so through the afternoon we swung at anchor and watched the battle, too far away to judge whether one side or the other was gaining an advantage.

"There was mighty little sleep on the Pennsylvania that night, and when the morning broke every eye was strained harborward to see whether the old flag was still flying over Sumter. We could not make it out, and our fears were realized when later a harbor pilot boarded us and told us Sumter had fallen.

"Under his guidance we worked our way up the channel past the now silent forts of the city. There all was excitement. Nothing but the victory gained by the South Carolina soldiers was talked about, and a Yankee sailor was not enthusiastically welcomed.

"That port officers advised our captain to discharge his cargo without delay and get away while there was a chance. We took the hint and lost no time in acting upon it. In considerably less than forty-eight hours our cargo was hoisted out and we had said 'goodby' to Charleston.

"The next time I sailed to that port was about one year later, I should say, and then we carried stone instead of ice. You see, it was this way: The government did not have enough armed vessels to maintain an effective blockade of the long-stretching Atlantic seaboard, and it was decided to obstruct the channels leading to certain ports, of which Charleston was one, with sunken vessels. The government purchased sixteen ships that had been formerly employed in the whaling business, picking them up in New London, Sag Harbor, Nantucket and New Bedford.

"These sunken hulks formed only a temporary obstruction, of course, for the constant shifting of the sand on the bar, and the action of the waves would eventually cause them to break up and wash away, but I reckon they served the purpose intended at the time."

RACE PROGRAM IS VERY STRONG

This Department of State Fair Under L. B. Shropshire Promises Big Interest.

THE SIX BIG STAKE EVENTS

Six Purse Events, Six Running Races, Gentlemen's Cup Race and Lady's Cup Race Among Star Features of Program.

From a racing standpoint, patrons of the Kentucky State Fair, the week of September 9-14, will be well provided for, as the program, which has been arranged by L. B. Shropshire, assistant secretary of the fair, is one of the best seen in Kentucky in years. He has arranged for six stake events for trotters and pacers, valued at $600 each, and, in addition, he has provided for six running races, one for each day of the fair, and a Gentlemen's Cup race and a Gentlemen's Riding race, the last-named two to be decided the closing day of the fair. Among the stake races will be one for two-year-old trotters, one for three-year-old trotters, one each for 2:13 trotters, 2:25 trotters, 2:13 pacers and 2:25 pacers. The purse events will consist of one each for free-for-all trotters, 2:17 trotters, 2:15 trotters, 2:20 trotters, 2:12 pacers, 2:17 pacers and one for free-for-all pacers.

During the past two years the racing feature of the fair has proved one of the most interesting of any attraction provided by the management, and because of that fact it became apparent to Secretary J. L. Dent that better facilities would have to be provided for caring for the patrons of that particular feature. With this idea in view, the very first contract entered into by Commissioner Newman and Secretary Dent was with contractors for the enlargement of the grand stand, and when the gates are thrown open the morning of September 9 just twice as many people will be cared for in the race track section of the grounds as formerly. The new addition to the grand stand will be of reinforced concrete, similar in every respect to the original part of the big stand, making it one of the largest as well as one of the most substantial grand stands in the country. Here can gather thousands of Kentuckians to renew old acquaintances as well as to witness the sport that is dearest to the heart of every native born son and daughter of the old Commonwealth. Unlike many of the race tracks of the country where trotting and running races are operated simply for the benefit of the track owners, here sport furnished at the State Fair can readily be designated as that of the "King of Sports" as the management of the fair has no idea of reaping any reward except that which comes from a good word passed around by its patrons. Therefore all races are decided strictly on their merits and in each instance the best horse wins. That some of the best horses in training on the tracks of Kentucky and other states will participate in the trotting and pacing events on the program this year is demonstrated by the fact that already owners have applied for stable room for the week and have made numerous entries to the stake events.

Under the arrangements provided by Assistant Secretary Shropshire one stake event and one purse race will be decided each afternoon during the week, in addition to which will be one running race each day. As all events for trotters and pacers, with the exception of the two-year-old events, will be three in five heat affairs it is needless to say that each afternoon will be crowded full of good sport for the fair patrons.

NEW JUDGING PAVILION

At the Kentucky State Fair, Louisville, September 9 to 14, inclusive.

A great improvement over former years, in the method of handling exhibits at the Kentucky State Fair, is the erection of a new pavilion for the judging of live stock. In this building all swine, sheep and goats will be judged. It will also be used for the Student's and Farm Boy's Judging Contest.

One side of the building will be fitted for swine and sheep judging arena, and the other for the Student Judging. In this way the public will have an opportunity of seeing and comparing exhibits in these departments with the same degree of pleasure and satisfaction as those who witness the contest for honors in the horse, mule, jack and cattle rings in the magnificent Coliseum or main building.

The new building will be well lighted, fully protected from sun or inclement weather, and will have seating capacity for all interested spectators. In short, it will be a miniature State Fair within itself.
